Where a business entity has made the taxation registration pursuant to the provision of Paragraph 2, Article 3, the documents listed in Subparagraphs 1 through 4 of the preceding Paragraph are not required for submission. If it is deemed necessary, the competent tax authority may ask the business entity to submit the original document listed in Subparagraph 1 of the preceding Paragraph.

Article 7

If a foreign enterprise, institution, group, or organization conducts business within the territory of the R.O.C. and does not establish a branch company, it shall submit the following documents when applying for taxation registration for its fixed place of business:

1. The responsible person's identification documents.
2. When the foreign entity has an agent, the agent's power of attorney.
3. Qualification documents evidencing that the foreign enterprise, institution, group, or organization has been approved for registration or establishment by the competent authority for the relevant industry of its home country.

The documents prescribed in Subparagraph 3 of the preceding Paragraph shall be authenticated or notarized (legalized) by a local government agency or court in the foreign country or the R.O.C. embassy, consulate, or representative office in the foreign country, or by the embassy, consulate, or representative office of the given country in the R.O.C., or shall be notarized (legalized) pursuant to The Notary Act of our country.

All the documents listed in Paragraph 1 which are written in a foreign language other than English shall be accompanied by an English or Chinese translation.

Section2 Modification of Registration , Suspension (Resumption) for Approval and Recordation, or Cancellation of Registration

Article 8

Where there has been a change to any particulars in the taxation registration, the business entity shall apply to the competent tax authority to modify the registration within 15 days from the occurrence of the change by filling out an application for modification registration attached with relevant supporting documents; in the case of a change of address, the business entity shall apply for modification registration with the competent tax authority for the new address.

A business entity that is a company, sole proprietorship, partnership or limited partnership shall apply for modification of registration, with respect to any particulars originally registered, within 15 days after completing modification of company, commercial, or limited partnership registration; however, if any particulars regulated in Subparagraph 9, Paragraph 1 of Article 4 is the only item needs to be modified, the business entity shall apply for modification registration in accordance with the preceding Paragraph.

In the case of a business entity which sells goods or services via automatic vending machines, if there is any increase or decrease in the number of the machines or change in the place of the location of the machines, the business entity shall report to the competent tax authority within 15 days after such occurrence.

A business entity which had sold goods or services solely or concurrently via online platform, applications on mobile devices, or other electronic tools before January 1, 2023 and completed the taxation registration before December 31, 2022 shall, before January 15, 2023, apply to the competent tax authority to modify the registration in accordance with Subparagraph 9, Paragraph 1 of Article 4.

Article 9

The period of business suspension or extension of suspension filed by a business entity for approval and recordation as required by Article 31 of the Act shall not be more than one year each time.

If a company, sole proprietorship, partnership or limited partnership has completed a registration for business suspension or resumption with the competent authority for company, commercial or limited partnership registration, the competent tax authority shall process registration matters based on the registration information for the suspension or resumption provided by the competent authority for company, commercial or limited partnership registration. The competent authority's processing of the registration will be deemed completion of filing for approval and recordation as required by Article 31 of the Act.

Article 10

When a business entity is discontinued due to dissolution, nullification of registration, transfer, or merger with another business entity, it shall fill out an application form for cancellation of business registration and apply for cancellation of business registration with the competent tax authority within 15 days from the occurrence of the fact.

Section3 Revocation or Nullification of Registration

Article 11

If any forgery or falsification has been found with respect to the establishment of the business entity or any other particulars in the registration for which a final and unappealable conviction is issued, the competent tax authority may revoke the taxation registration based on notification by the prosecution agency.

Given the occurrence of any of the following circumstances with respect to a business entity's registration, the competent tax authority may nullify the taxation registration ex officio or based on the application by a stakeholder:

1. The business entity has yet to commence business operations when six full months have elapsed after the registration, or after commencing business operations, has of its own accord suspended business operations for six months, except with legitimate reason and when approval has been granted for an extension.
2. The business entity has been relocated from the original address, and after six months modification registration has yet to be carried out, even after the business entity has been notified by the tax authority.
3. After registration, the relevant authority finds no sign of business activities, and the real estate owner has provided proof that no lease relationship exists.

If the circumstance of any of the preceding two Paragraphs occurs with respect to a business entity that carries out taxation registration pursuant to Paragraph 2, Article 3 requiring that the registration be revoked or nullified, the competent tax authority shall file a report with the competent authority for the registration, and may only revoke or nullify the registration after the revocation or nullification by the registration authority, except those which have been notified of dissolution or termination by the competent authority for the registration.
