Article 7

The amount of basic income of a profit-seeking enterprise shall be the sum of the taxable income as calculated in accordance with the Income Tax Act and any income that falls under the following subparagraphs:

1. The amount of income for which income tax is suspended in accordance with Article 4-1 and Article 4-2 of the Income Tax Act.
2. The amount of income for which profit-seeking enterprise income tax is exempted in accordance with Article 9, Article 9-2, Article 10, Article 15 and Article 70-1 of the now-abolished Statute for Upgrading Industries before its repeal.
3. The amount of income for which profit-seeking enterprise income tax is exempted in accordance with Article 8-1 of the now-abolished Statute for Upgrading Industries before its amendment on December 31, 1999.
4. The amount of income exempted from profit-seeking enterprise income tax in accordance with Article 28 of the Statute for Encouragement of Private Participation in Transportation Infrastructure Projects.
5. The amount of income exempted from profit-seeking enterprise income tax in accordance with Article 36 of the Act for Promotion of Private Participation in Infrastructure Projects.
6. The amount of income exempted from profit-seeking enterprise income tax in accordance with Article 18 of the Act for Establishment and Administration of Science Parks.
7. The amount of income for which profit-seeking enterprise income tax is exempted in accordance with Article 15 of the Act for Establishment and Administration of Science Parks before its amendment on January 20, 2001.
8. The amount of income exempted from profit-seeking enterprise income tax in accordance with Article 37 of the Business Mergers and Acquisitions Act.
9. The amount of income exempted from profit-seeking enterprise income tax in accordance with Article 13 of the Offshore Banking Act. However, such amount of income does not include the total revenue derived from a credit extension that shall be taxed at the prescribed withholding rate in accordance with Article 73-1 of the Income Tax Act.
10. The amount of income that is entitled to reduction or exemption from profit-seeking enterprise income tax or that is excluded from the income tax base as may be provided for in such laws after the implementation of this Act and publicly announced by the Ministry of Finance (hereinafter referred to as the MOF).

In the case of an amount of income which is added back in accordance with Subparagraph 1 and Subparagraph 9 of the preceding paragraph, the loss incurred after this Act coming into force and assessed by the tax authority may be offset against the income of the same subparagraph within five years from the year after such losses are derived.

Where any profit-seeking enterprise sells, starting from the fiscal year 2013, the stocks referred to in Article 4-1 of the Income Tax Act that were held for a period of three years or more, such enterprise, when calculating the amount of income derived from such transactions in the current year, should deduct the losses incurred by selling the stocks referred to in Article 4-1 of the Income Tax Act that were held for a period of three years or more in the same year, and, if the result is a positive balance, only one-half of such balance should be added into the current year's income derived from such transactions; otherwise, the preceding paragraph governs.

If a loss is incurred in a type of transaction for which the income is added back in accordance with Subparagraph 10 of Paragraph 1, Paragraph 2 may apply mutatis mutandis if so publicly announced by the MOF.

Article 12

The amount of basic income of an individual shall be the sum of the net taxable income as calculated in accordance with the Income Tax Act and the amount which is under the provisions of the following subparagraphs:

1. Income, which is derived from sources outside the Republic of China and is excluded from gross consolidated income, as well as income which is exempted in accordance with Paragraph 1, Article 28 of the Act Governing Relations with Hong Kong and Macau. However, if the aggregate of the two mentioned sources of income in a filing unit is less than NT$1,000,000, it may be excluded from the basic income.
2. Insurance payment received by the beneficiary of a life insurance policy or annuity in which the beneficiary and the proposer are not the same person and the life insurance policy and annuities are contracted after this Act coming into force. However, in the case of payment made upon the death of the insured person, the part of which aggregate of payment made in a filing unit is equal to or less than NT$30,000,000 may be excluded from the basic income.
3. Income derived from transactions of beneficiary certificates of privately-placed securities investment trust funds.
4. The amount of non-cash donations or contributions which is deducted from the gross consolidated income in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Act and other laws.

5. (Deleted)

6. The amount of income or deduction which is entitled to reduction, exemption or deduction from the consolidated income tax as may be provided by laws which may be promulgated after the implementation of this Act and thereafter announced by the Ministry of Finance.

The calculation of income on securities transactions under the provision of Subparagraph 3 of the preceding paragraph shall apply mutatis mutandis to Subparagraph 1 and Subparagraph 2, Item 7, Paragraph 1 of Article 14 of the Income Tax Act. The loss incurred from the mentioned securities transactions may be deducted from income derived from securities transactions performed in the same year. However, if no income or no sufficient income derived from security transactions in the same year is available for deduction, the loss may be carried forward for the next three years following the year of the loss. However, the claim of deduction of loss shall apply only to such income and loss as are calculated based on the actual transaction price and the original cost in the years in which the loss incurred and the deduction claimed and only to the amount which has been assessed and recognized by the collection authority.

For the purpose of auditing income derived from securities transactions under the provision of Subparagraph 3 of Paragraph 1, regulations governing the recognition of the price, costs and expenses of securities transactions, as well as the assessment of such in the case of failing to file or present the actual transaction price or the original cost shall be issued by the Ministry of Finance.

In the case of an amount of reduction, exemption or deduction which shall be added back to the base of the basic tax in accordance with Subparagraph 6 of Paragraph 1, and with the incurrence of a loss may apply mutatis mutandis to Paragraph 3 if publicly announced by the Ministry of Finance.

The calculation for adjustment and public announcement of the amount prescribed in Subparagraph 2, Paragraph 1 shall apply mutatis mutandis to Paragraph 2 of Article 3.

The provision under Subparagraph 1 of Paragraph 1 shall come into force on January 1, 2009. However, if the Executive Yuan deems it is necessary to postpone the implementation of the provision in consideration of the needs of economic development, the provision may come into force on January 1, 2010.

Article 12-1

For any individual and his or her related parties directly or indirectly holding up to 50% of shares or capital of a foreign affiliated enterprise registered in a low-tax burden country or jurisdiction, or having a significant influence on such a foreign affiliated enterprise, and the foreign affiliated enterprise does not fall under the provisions of any of the Subparagraphs of Paragraph 1, Article 43-3 of the Income Tax Act, where the individual, himself or herself, with his or her spouse and relatives within the second degree of kinship holding up to 10% of shares or capital of the foreign affiliated enterprise, the surplus earnings of the foreign affiliated enterprise shall be recognized as the individual's business income which is calculated according to the ratio of the holding shares or capital. Also, such income shall be aggregated with the income calculated in accordance with Subparagraph 1, Paragraph 1 of the preceding article and be included in the individual's basic income of the current year. However, if the aggregate of the income in a filing unit is less than NT$1,000,000, it shall be excluded from the basic income.

The term "a low-tax country or jurisdiction" as mentioned in the preceding paragraph shall be in accordance with Paragraph 2, Article 43-3 of the Income Tax Act.

From the current year in which the foreign affiliated enterprise is in accordance with provisions of Paragraph 1, if the losses of each year incurred in the foreign affiliated enterprise have been duly certified in accordance with Paragraph 3, Article 43-3 of the Income Tax Act, then filed by the individual and verified by the tax authority, such losses may be deducted from surplus earnings of the foreign affiliated enterprise within ten years, and the business income of the individual shall be calculated in accordance with the provisions of Paragraph 1.

When the individual receives the dividends or surplus earnings from the foreign affiliated enterprise, the remaining sum of such dividends or surplus earnings deducting the business income calculated in accordance with Paragraph 1 shall be included in the income calculated in accordance with Subparagraph 1, Paragraph 1 of the preceding article of the receiving year. However, the business income calculated in accordance with Paragraph 1 which was excluded from the basic income shall not be deducted.

In case income tax on the business income provided in Paragraph 1 of the receiving year has been paid in accordance with the tax act of the source country, such tax paid may, upon presentation by the taxpayer of evidence of tax payment issued by the tax office of said source country and attested by an overseas agency of the Republic of China or other organizations recognized by the Government of the Republic of China in the said locale, be deducted from the amount of basic tax payable calculated in accordance with the forepart of Paragraph 1, Article 13 by the taxpayer within five years from the date following the expiration date of the statutory period for filing the tax return in the year of recognizing business income into the basic income; to the extent that such tax credit shall not exceed the amount of basic tax which, computed in accordance with the act, is increased in consequence of inclusion of such business income.

The regulations governing the scope of related parties, affiliated enterprises, a significant influence, calculation of the business income, the deduction of losses, and foreign tax credits; the relevant calculation method; required documents; and other requirements specified in the preceding five Paragraphs shall be prescribed by the Ministry of Finance.

If an affiliated enterprise specified in Paragraph 1 is subject to Article 43-4 of the Income Tax Act, it is not subject to the provisions of the preceding six Paragraphs.

Article 13

The amount of basic tax of an individual shall be the amount of basic income as calculated in accordance with Article 12 and Paragraph 1 of the preceding article with a deduction of NT$6,000,000 and then multiplied by the tax rate of twenty percent. However, in the case where income tax has been paid on the income under Subparagraph 1, Paragraph 1 of Article 12, in accordance with the tax laws of the source country of that income, such tax paid may be credited against the basic tax, to the extent that such tax credit shall not exceed the amount of basic tax which, computed by the above mentioned method, is increased in consequence of inclusion of such income.

When a taxpayer applies for tax credit as described in the preceding paragraph, he or she shall present the evidence of tax payment issued by the tax office of the said source country for the same assessment year and attested by an overseas agency of the Republic of China or consulate or other organizations recognized by the Government of the Republic of China in the said locality.

The calculation for adjustment and public announcement of the amount of the deduction prescribed in Paragraph 1 shall apply mutatis mutandis to Paragraph 2 of Article 3.

Chapter 4 Penalty Provisions

Article 15

In the case of a taxpayer who has calculated and filed his or her basic income in accordance with the provisions of this Act, any omission or evasion of the basic tax due to the omission or under-reporting shall be subject to a fine of no more than twice the amount of the tax evaded.

In the case of a taxpayer who fails to calculate and file his or her basic income in accordance with the provisions of this Act, and who is found by the collection authority to have taxable income hereunder, the collection authority shall, in addition to determining the tax payable in accordance with this Act, impose a fine of no more than three times the amount of tax determined as payable.
